

Terms And Conditions

Form Submission

- Upon submission of the contact form, you acknowledge that data that you input and only that data will be sent and stored in a secure database.
- Your contact information will not be used for any marketing purposes.
- The data you submit can be accessed by administrators of the website and no one else.
- Your contact information will be used to contact you to answer your contact message or query.
- Once an administrator has contacted you, your information will be deleted from the database.
- Users also have the option to request their data be deleted at any time.
- You acknowledge that any information submit through the form is truthful and honest.
- You acknowledge that marketing or spam should not be submitted through the contact form.